

ACE ACCELERATOR FOR WOMEN LEADERS

BUILD AWARENESS, INSTILL CONFIDENCE, CREATE LIFELONG EXCELLENCE

Overview

Invest in your women leaders with a transformational experience. We create a safe learning environment where women can build the critical communication skills required to move into positions of leadership and create a strong peer network that lasts throughout their careers.

Learning Outcomes

- Develop executive presence and lead productive difficult conversations
- Speak with clarity and brevity, and command an audience's attention
- Build trust through storytelling and effectively influence others

EMPOWER YOUR NEXT GENERATION OF FEMALE TALENT TO:

CONTACT US TODAY TO START YOUR JOURNEY

info@globalpublicspeaking.com | 202.495.1557

Invest in your high-performing talent with Global Public Speaking, the premier provider of executive communication programs around the world.

About Global Public Speaking

Global Public Speaking LLC is a communication training firm. We work with emerging and established leaders who want to speak clearly, concisely, and confidently. Our CEO and founder, Allison Shapira, is a former opera singer who teaches public speaking at the Harvard Kennedy School and has spent nearly 20 years working with Fortune 50 companies, government agencies, and non-profit organizations around the world. Allison is the author of the best-selling book, Speak with Impact: How to Command the Room and Influence Others (HarperCollins Leadership, 2018).

Allison has assembled a world-class team of public speaking experts who help our clients build their public speaking and presentation skills, executive presence, and media skills. We customize training programs that include executive coaching, interactive workshops and keynotes, and online learning. Through these programs, our clients learn the skills and the confidence to build trust with colleagues and clients, win more business, and raise the profile of their organizations.

“In my 30-year career, Global Public Speaking’s executive communication program is the most effective public speaking training I have ever received. They have cracked the code on teaching the skills and presence needed to deliver high impact communication with confidence, purpose, and authenticity.”

– Market Executive, Multinational Fortune 50 Financial Institution

“Not only did you give our high-performing women confidence, direction, and great tools for speaking, but you inspired us all by showing us that life can take blunt turns, sending us into new adventures. Thank you for realizing that your gifts must be shared and for doing all you do for women AND men that cross your path.”

– Regional Executive, Multinational Fortune 50 Financial Institution

Our Commitment To You

Global Public Speaking is a certified woman-owned small business and certified women’s business enterprise.

We are committed to helping people develop their own authentic speaking style to reveal the most confident, genuine version of themselves—both on stage and off stage.